

Introduction to Neurolinguistic Therapeutic Modelling (NTM)

A rich personal experience of NTM at work

Of the Bumper Bundle Book of Modelling, Robert Dilts says:

“This should be a foundation text for everyone.”

This is a 4-day workshop introducing you to the thinking and application of NLP, and more specifically modelling, within a therapeutic context.

Neurolinguistic Therapeutic Modelling adopts as its first principles:

- ★ we create our own reality . However we construct this reality, we have the ability to reconfigure it into a more rewarding structure.
- ★ we have all the resources we need, and instinctively know what shifts would work best for us.

This makes for an approach which is highly ecological, non-instructive, and free of the imposition of any external maps.

Drawn from the latest work of Fran Burgess, these four days are ideally suited for Master Practitioners and above. You can top up your existing knowledge and practice, provide yourself with great personal development opportunities and set your thinking in the direction of becoming an NTM Therapist.

Programme Outcomes

By the end of this four day intensive workshop, you will have:

- ★ Gained an overview of the context of modelling within the therapeutic relationship
- ★ Understood the dynamics of the modelling process
- ★ Experienced NTM for personal development as well as for application with clients
- ★ Revisited your skills and knowledge and taken your practice to a more precise area of operation
- ★ Deepened your commitment to the amazing potential of NLP
- ★ Experienced at least ten different modelling based interventions
- ★ Explored your role as an NLP Therapist.

Your Trainer

Fran Burgess first came to NLP thirty plus years ago. A Master Trainer, from 1998-2012 she headed up The Northern School of NLP. During this time she became registered as an NLPt Psychotherapist with UKCP. Her primary focus was on gaining understanding of modelling - a process unique to the application of NLP setting it aside from any other modality - so that she could ultimately gain an integrated understanding of the many layers involved. She achieved her goal of being able to simplify its complexities and provide models which make for easy understanding, and poured this 15 years of exploration and testing into her teaching and publication of The Bumper Bundle Book of Modelling and its Companion Workbook. She has devised and will deliver this programme based on her practical experiences with clients, using models and models she has created, as well as existing modelling methodologies.

Fran says

Neurolinguistic Therapeutic Modelling profoundly embraces the beliefs that since we create our own reality one way, we can recreate if another way, from all the amazing resources we hold within us.

It's approach is truly ethical, working from within the other's system, with little or no intrusion from an 'alien' world.

It is immensely satisfying to be one of its practitioners.

Certificate in Professional NLP

This training contributes to the development of competence required for the Certificate in Professional NLP. You can find further details on our website.

Dates

September Thursday 10 - Sunday 13 Lancs
The Sanctuary of Healing, BB6 8AF
November Tuesday 10 - Friday 13 York
St Bede's Pastoral Centre, YO24 1AQ

Cost

This four day programme costs £499, with no VAT involved.

£50 discount if booked and paid for before July 31st or September 31st 2015, respectively.

Booking

To book onto this programme go to the Registration page on our website, and provide your details.

Payment

After registration we will send you a Paypal invoice and request a BACS payment from you directly into our account.

Cancellation

Should you need to cancel, there will be a full refund up to six weeks of the programme's start date; 50% refund up to three weeks and no refund thereafter.

Professional Refund

Should you choose to register for the full Psychotherapy Diploma in NTM, you will receive a 50% refund of the costs of this workshop.

Further Enquiries

To find out more about the programme, or to book onto any of the courses, check out our website and apply on line.

www.forge.zone

info@forge.zone

01904 673626
